DOORS open for matinees at 2 p. m. ; curtain rises at 2.30 p. m.
Evenings.—Doors open at 7.30, and curtain rises at 8.15 p. m. sharp.
Tickets can be reserved two days in advance without extra charge.

Office open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Seats can be secured by mail, telegraph or telephone. Telephone 732.

Physicians are requested to register at the Box Office, leaving seat number, as this will enable Ushers to find them, if called for, without disturbing the audience.

Children in arms not admitted to evening performances. Children three years old or over, full price.

Patrons will confer a favor by reporting to the management any incivility or inattention on the part of the employees, and annoyances of any nature.

If the individual members of an audience would stop to think for just an instant, they would undoubtedly appreciate the fact that the habit of rising from their seat and leaving the theatre before the curtain falls, is a most annoying one, and one that should be stopped. We therefore beg our audiences to kindly remain in their seats until the close of the performance.

Carriages can be ordered at the Box Office or of the Chief Usher.

For all lost articles, apply at Box Office.

It is strange, but there is a class of people that seem to take an intense delight in bespattering the floor with tobacco juice, and in being boisterous and using profane language. These people should know at once that the courts authorize their immediate expulsion, should the management see fit to exercise its rights.

A CHANGE OF HUE.

(From Judge.)

Oh, don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?
Sweet Alice, with hair so brown?
She has used a new bleach and now she wears
The yellowest hair in town.

Miss Model—"Do you need a model, sir?"
Old Persimmons—"No; I only paint flowers and fruit." Miss M.—"Well I'm a peach, see?"—Truth.

Mr. Dantzley—"I suppose you enjoy the nightly hops here?" Mr. Wyly—"Yes; if they are properly brewed and corked."—
Boston Courier.

"What a fine collection of stuffed birds you have!" "Yes, I am rather proud of it, as it cost me nothing. I took the birds from my daughter's discarded hats."—Lustige Blaetter.

Mrs. Dovey—"Can you let me have $25, dear? I want to spend a quiet afternoon out with Ethel.

Mr. Dovey—"Can't do it, darling. Money is awfully tight.

Mrs. Dovey (disappointedly)—"Then I sup-

Just a Word About

BELL PIANOS.

THESE MAGNIFICENT INSTRUMENTS
HAVE NOW ARRIVED AT SUCH A
DEGREE OF EXCELLENCE THAT IT IS SIMPLY FUTILE FOR OTHERS TO EVEN ATTEMPT TO FOLLOW.

BACKED WITH ENORMOUS CAPITAL,

the brainy managers of the great BELL Concern not only attempted, but have actually succeeded, in producing an instrument that is the peer and pride of the musical world.

We Make No Idle Boasts.

The time has come when the word
"Bell" on a piano is known the world over as a "standard of excellence," even as it has always been "a guarantee of good faith."

A PET NAME.

Miss Birdie Slade (an Oklahoma belle)—I kinder hate to call you Mr. Bowersock—it sounds so formal.

Swain—Then call me Polecat Pete just as all the fellers do.

KNEW HER BUSINESS.

Miss Quiverful (breaking into a proposal)—Why do you speak so low?

Mr. Shyman (in confusion)—I was afraid of waking your mother up.

Miss Quiverful (reassuringly)—You need not be alarmed. She won't wake up until you are through.

ORNITHOLOGICAL

Hungry Hank (entering taxidermist's)—Do you keep all kinds of stuffed birds here?

Taxidermist—Well, yes; but what of it?

Hungry Hank—I wish you'd gimme a turkey stuffed with oysters. I'm famished.

NOT ROOM ENOUGH.

Haverly—Trilby could never have been a Chicago girl.

Austen—Why not?

Haverly—Because she could never have posed for her foot altogether in one studio.

SYNOPSIS.

ACT I.—Room in the House of Luther B. Clews, Fifth Avenue, New York. Miss Herts, the Banker's Ward, becomes a Conundrum, and Mr. Prentice, of Australia, develops an astonishing ignorance of that Country. Mr. Reginald Bank makes remarkable progress in physical culture, and resolves to capture the man hater.

ACT II.—(Two weeks later.) The Reception. The Trust of the Diamond Necklace. Father and Son. "Did you say disgrace?" The Bank Embezzlement. The Mysterious Man with the Red Beard. The great Diamond Robbery. "Arrest him! he's the thief!"

ACT III.—(The next day.) Private Room in a Restaurant. "We don't serve ladies alone after six o'clock." The Fight and the Pursuit. Scene 2—Broadway, in front of the Imperial Hotel. Cable Cars Running, and a Stylish Turnout Waiting. The Struggle on the Street. The Crowd Collects. "Hully gee! get on to the fight!" "You can't stop me." "But I can."

ACT IV.—(The next day.) The great Brooklyn Handicap. On the Gravesend Road. Picking the Winner. "I'm a plunger." Playing for terrible Stakes. "This race decides it." Scene 2—The Grandstand at Gravesend Track. Parade of the Horses and Jockeys. "Who'll be the winner?" Lining up the Horses. "They're off!" The Race to the Finish. Excitement of the Spectators. "Dr. Rice has won."

ACT V.—(The next day.) Same as Act I. Freddy becomes a Private Detective. Terrible Results of Mr. Bank's Losses. "I'm suffering from Sir Walter's Treatment." Viola Herts makes some astonishing disclosures, and Mr. Prentice walks into the Lion's Mouth. Freddy's System is Found to Work Admirably. The Winnings.

GILMORE'S....

Great Band Coming.

It is a long time since the famous old GILMORE'S BAND has played here. It is coming again though, on TUESDAY, NOV. 19th, 50 strong, directed by the distinguished Victor Herbert, and with it an equally famous prima donna, Miss Ida Klein, at one time of the Metropolitan (Ger.) Opera, New York.

But the old organization has been vastly changed since Victor Herbert became director, and for the better. It is no longer a mere "brass band" it is on a far different footing now. The time for jim cracks in music of respectable order has gone by. No firecrackers in a barrel, or anvils, or cannon touched off in the wrong measure now. The Gilmore concerts are of another sort under the new and better regime. They are "grand" concerts, pure and simple—brilliant, artistic, and finished. Victor Herbert began, developed, and flourished in the atmosphere of the great orchestras of Europe, and continued in the great orchestras of America, and naturally he has applied the best orchestral methods to Gilmore's, and with splendid results. We shall see on Nov. 19th.

THE PROGRAMME

The primary idea of this Programme is, of course, to enlighten the audience as to the personnel of the artists taking part in the performances, incidentally to serve as a guide to the plot of the piece, and generally to give such information as will tend to the enjoyment of the auditor.

Reading matter of a miscellaneous nature, is, however, liberally supplied, that may be perused with interest and advantage. Quips and Quirks give zest to the solid matter, as sauces do to meats, but there is a fund of information in the advertisements that may be seriously considered with profit.

The publishers are prepared to attend to all business in the way of general and special advertising.

Respectfully,

BELTON & ROOTE,
Advertising Agents.

AS GOOD AS WHEAT.

Buffalo Express.

"I see," remarked the wide-awake farmer, "that wheat has gone up to seventy cents in Chicago, and there's a report that it will keep goin' till it gets to one dollar. Now, I'd like to contract to sell you my crop for seventy cents. Seventy cents will do me. I'd rather have a sure thing while it's goin' than to take my chances on doin' better by waitin'."

"But," replied the commission merchant, "I can't agree to contract for your wheat at seventy cents."

"Why not? It's goin' up to a dollar an' you'll make thirty cents a bushel. Ain't that enough?"

"Oh, yes; but you see that seventy cents is only a speculative price. It ain't what they pay for real wheat."

"Don't pay that for real wheat? What in thunder do they pay for, then?"

"Why, for options."

"Well, what the blazes are options?"

"Why, they're promises to get wheat and sell it for such and such a price."

"Well, then, they got to get the wheat, ain't they?"

"No; they sell the promises again, according as the market rises or falls."

"An' don't they buy an' sell any real wheat at all?"

"Not much."

"Just buy an' sell wind at seventy cents a bushel?"

"That's about it."

"Thunder an' Mars, wish I'd knowed that last fall. I wouldn't a-sowed any wheat. I'd tied my grain bags to the back o' my fannin mill an' kept the boy turnin' it all winter, till I'd filled all the bags I could get hold of. Put it ain't too late yet. By gosh, if it's wind, I want 'stead of wheat, I can supply the market for the hull country right off my farm!"

First citizen (in the near future)—"Who is that they're goin' to string up?" Second citizen—"That's the man that stole Tornado Pete's bicycle."

"War," said the lecturing philanthropist, "is a horrible evil. The warrior is a survival of barbarism—What's that! A drum! Soldiers coming!! Open the window. I want to see them."—Boston Transcript.
